

Who are we?

We are a multi-aged group of local individuals with a common interest – writing! Members come from diverse backgrounds and write fiction, non-fiction, poetry, memoirs, essays, family history, screenplays and children’s literature.

Our members come from all levels of experience. We have some who have published their writings and others just beginning.

RAWC strives to encourage and support members, whether writing for publication or only for personal satisfaction, by sharing knowledge and providing reader feedback.

What are meetings like?

Our friendly group allows members to get opinions on their written pieces. We ask that the writer email the computer document in advance to all members on the Contact List. This allows for the document to be read before the meeting. At the meeting, a round-table discussion let’s each member provide feedback on the piece.

At times we invite guest speakers to share their experiences on the writing and publishing process. We may also provide short educational presentations on writing resources.

How can you join us?

We meet on the second and fourth Saturdays each month from 10:00a.m.-12:00 p.m. in the lower level of the Richland Community Library. There is no cost to become a member. All you need to do is show up!
